

Acknowledgements

Berkshire Archaeology is very grateful to Historic England for funding this project and to Brian Kerr, Head of Excavation and Analysis, for his support, advice, encouragement and interest throughout the project from initiation to completion. Iain Fraser kindly provided access to the Old Windsor Archive held at Historic Environment Scotland in Edinburgh and Berkshire Archaeology is grateful to the very helpful and friendly staff at HES. Angela Houghton, Collection Management Curator and Samantha Tabner, Collections Assistant, Reading Museum, kindly gave access to the finds archive at Reading Museum and provided invaluable assistance in understanding the archive at Reading Museum.

The finds quantification exercise was supervised by Sue Nelson, Erica Macey-Bracken, Sophie Rose Clarke and Amy Hall on behalf of Wessex Archaeology under the overall management of Lorraine Mephram, Senior Archives Manager.

Berkshire Archaeology is grateful to all the members of the Berkshire Archaeological Society (BAS), Berkshire Archaeological Research Group (BARG), the University of the Third Age, Wokingham, and to members of the local community in Old Windsor for volunteering to assist with the finds quantification exercise. Particular thanks go to Ann Griffin and Anne Harrison of BAS and to Jane Dawson, Old Windsor Parish Council Councillor, for their support and infectious enthusiasm for the project. All the volunteers thoroughly deserve to be mentioned for their invaluable contribution to this important aspect of the project. Thank you to Bill Annan, Linda Annan, Beth Asbury, Margaret Boltwood, Julie Camp, Steven Craig, Jane Dawson, Gail Eaton, Steph Elmes, Pete Fern, Janet Firth, Sally Fox, Eluned Glover, Mike Glover, Ann Griffin, Anne Harrison, Anne Helmore, Gill Holmes, Anne Horner, Sally Hughes, Vicky Hummel, Chris Jones, Lynne Jones, Martin Labram, Tim Lloyd, Joan Burrow-Newton, David Nicholls, Charlie Pritchard, Nick Rose-Innes, Paul Seddon, John Sharp, Sue Sharpe, Henry Stone, Nathaniel Tegg, Jill Worsfold and Jill York.
